A Report of the C. W. A. Project at the Epsom Public Library

To the Trustees of the Epsom Public Library :

Two weeks, February 12 to February 24, 1934 were spent in working on a C. W. A. project in the Epsom Public Library. The project was supervised by Miss Dorothy Annable, executive secretary of the New Hampshire Public Library Commission.

The work was carried on as follows :

The catalogue filing was corrected.

Subject heading cards were made for all non-fiction books and these cards were filed into the catalogue.

The books in the reference collection were catalogued.

The circulation system was revised so that book cards of books in circulation may be kept in order in the file, thereby saving time in the discharging of books.

I wish to thank Mrs. Bickford for her splendid co-operation, and I also wish to thank the townswomen of Epsom who helped during the project.

Respectfully submitted,

LILLIAN R. PERKINS.

Leading events in current news have been noticed by appropriate exhibits of books and pictures displayed in the library.

Book Week activities were numerous consisting of special book exhibits and a display of posters. A costume party was held for the school children in the town hall in which more than sixty children participated.

Auditor's Certificate

This is to certify that I have examined the books and other financial records of the School Board of Epsom, of which this is a true summary for the fiscal year ending June 12, 1934, and find them correctly cast and properly vouched.

LOELLA M. BUNKER,
Auditor.

July 12, 1934.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Epsom:

I have the honor of presenting herewith the annual report for the school year ending June 30, 1934. It deals chiefly with organization and attendance, relative costs of school maintenance, instruction and facilities, and special activities.

Organization and Attendance

Graded schools of primary and grammar organization were maintained with four grades each at Short Falls and New Rye respectively. There were also three mixed schools. Following is the list of teachers, their respective schools, pupils enrolled, and the annual salary paid.

Name	School	No. pupils	Salary
Barbara Colby	Center	31	$720.00
Helen C. Ericson	North Road	10	666.00
Verna W. Hunt	Short Falls	22	750.00
Katherine C. Knight	Gossville	29	750.00
Margery C. Yeaton	New Rye	22	750.00

The per cent of attendance, 96.4, and the reduction in the number of tardinesses to .6 per pupil were superior to the averages for the supervisory union. Out of an average membership in Epsom of one hundred three pupils, seventeen were neither absent nor tardy. This record reflects credit upon parents and transportation drivers as well as upon the pupils and teachers.

Relative Costs of School Maintenance

State statistics for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934, show that among the 242 school districts in the state, taken in the order of total current costs per $1,000 of equalized valuation and beginning with the lowest, Epsom stands 78th: the local elementary cost being $5.52; high school, $1.68; other current cost, $.66; making the total current cost $7.86 per $1,000 of equalized valuation.

For the school year 1933-1934 the average cost per pupil in the schools of Epsom was $65.84, exclusive of payments for elementary school tuition. The state median cost per pupil in the elementary schools was $72.46.

Instruction and Facilities

Last year two new courses of instruction were added in the Eighth Grade. These included general science and literature. The former course aims primarily to acquaint the pupils with the fundamental laws of nature, to inspire an intelligent interest in the world of natural phenomena, and to reveal the means of successfully adjusting ourselves to physical environment. Textbooks entitled, "Open Doors To Science" were provided for the pupils, and laboratory outlines and manuals for the teachers. These manuals encourage the use of home-made apparatus. Several of the pupils showed particular skill in assembling and manipulating such equipment. The latter course in literature emphasizes an acquaintance with and an appreciation of the authors and characters associated with prose and poetry, using particularly the more recent and shorter poems of living authors. It also provides for and encourages in the upper grades the continuance of oral reading for correct interpretation. The Eighth Grade has been supplied with "Prose and Poetry," a textbook that combines this material in one volume.

The Lennes test and practice pads in arithmetic were used in the primary grades. These provide for the frequent use of standardized tests in both arithmetic fundamentals and problems. In addition there is included an abundance of drill work calculated to correct individual weaknesses discovered through the tests. Each pad represents a year's work. This system is well adapted to individual differences in achievement, and relieves the pupil of over-crowding or retardation depending upon the general ability of the class.

Special Activities

Among the special activities none is of greater value than the services of your school nurse. Special activities included a dental clinic conducted at the Town Hall for the convenience of Epsom children, and the daily milk ration served to thirty-four pupils of the Center and Gossville schools. This milk was produced locally and paid for by federal funds.

Through the co-operation of your teachers, "Detroit" reading tests were given to the pupils in intermediate and upper grades. These involved reading speed, and comprehension of thought and fact material in narrative, description and science. The averages attained equalled those of similar grades in the schools of Detroit.

For diagnostic purposes the Clapp-Young self-marking tests in arithmetic and English were given in the upper grades. These were used particularly to detect individual weaknesses requiring attention before promotions could be considered.

The Eighth Grade class of eleven pupils passed with credit the Otis-Orleans Graduation Examinations in spelling, reading, vocabulary, arithmetic fundamentals, arithmetic reasoning, grammar, language usage, literature, history, and geography. More important than these scholastic ranks was the excellent record made by this class, throughout the year, in citizenship habits. It was a pleasure at graduation to present this group to their guest speaker, James A. Pirnie, Headmaster of Robinson Seminary.

Conclusion

Of greater importance than elaborate buildings and equipment is the wisdom, tact, and patience of those who teach. I observed these characteristics as I went about among your schools.

I appreciate deeply the co-operation of the School Board, parents, and teachers.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE H. HARMON,
Superintendent.
